FEATURE STORY

“I had a five vessel bypass, and on 11 medications...”

My name is Kenneth. I have struggled with hypertension and diabetes since 1983. Then by 1984 I had developed severe heart blockage and had a five vessel bypass surgery. I was taking multiple medications... medications for high blood pressure, two medications for diabetes and also a medication for the heart, a total of 11 medications besides several supplements. In December 2001 the angina returned and my physician advised that I undergo a heart catheterization. The diagnosis was severe coronary artery disease.

Surgery was advised but then my boss told me about Hartland Wellness Center and how that many had been helped with their heart problems. My boss was very concerned and he called and made a reservation for me to attend the 18-day program. I arrived at the Center with a sack full of medications. Though I was taking blood pressure medication, the reading was 140/72 on admission. My blood glucose tested at 103, even with taking two medications for diabetes. I weighed 250 pounds.

A complete physical examination was done by the doctor, followed with an organic juice cleansing for a few days, to cleanse the body from accumulated toxins. The cleansing made the hydrotherapy treatments much more effective. In a few days I began to feel better. The massage treatments were very helpful to release tension and restore muscle tone.

By the end of the program I felt like a new person. I had lost 20 pounds. Through exercise, and diet and herbal therapy my blood sugar was testing at 80, which is normal and the medications were discontinued. My coronary risk factor had dropped from 5.12 to 4.0. I am feeling great!! I no longer take medications for hypertension and my B/P remains at 110/76. The triglycerides went from 157 to 90. I'm exercising every day, and eating right.

As I return home I feel like I have a new lease on life and I realize now, more than ever before, that my health is my most valuable possession! When health is taken away, there is nothing left! I will continue to follow the program at home.

Kenneth Charest

Editor's Note: Kenneth's employer recommended he attend Hartland Wellness Center, and will be sending other employees as well.

Here is a line from Ken's employer: "Ken continues to improve. Dr. C was so impressed with Ken's improvement that Dr. C's office plans to recommend others to your center..."

God bless you Ken!! Keep up the good work.

Bin Laden's Backfire!

On September 11, 2001, the world changed forever. But that date also marked the beginning of the time Jesus spoke of "when no man can work" in spreading the Everlasting Gospel. Yes, it is now upon us! For five years our ministry, Lift Up The Trumpet! (LUTT) had four big news boxes in the Philadelphia International Airport doling out free truth-filled literature night and day, 24-7-365. That's 24 hours, 7 days a week, 365 days a year. The Last Generation Magazine was one of the favorites, and it was also the last. The "Harry Potter" issue was in the boxes on that new "day of infamy." Osama Bin Laden's gambit put an end to our ministry at the Airport for security reasons.

But God was not to be mocked, or stymied! Sometime during that last week before the attack, a man, on his way to Las Vegas took a Last Generation "Harry Potter" issue with him. Once home, he gave it to a lady friend, a fairly new SDA as it turns out, who found our LUTT flyer inside describing the free Bible study and book offers. The lady called the 800 number and asked for all three items offered.

God was not to be mocked, or stymied!

Within a week she had phoned in a list of a half-dozen people whom she wanted to receive our materials! We sent them out right away. Then more orders from Las Vegas arrived! Next, their relatives from all around the country were also suddenly ordering! Something certainly unique was happening. The Lord was on the move!

But that's not all. The Las Vegas group called again and asked if there were any speakers out their way they could go hear, since they were very interested in what they were learning. Well! There was a meeting scheduled in California, so they rented a small bus and went to hear the truth for this time! Hallelujah! And all this came from ONE Last Generation magazine with one LUTT flyer inside! And it all happened right before the World Trade Center/Pentagon disaster of September 11.

Now, the Lord knew it would shut down our work at the airport, even as He prophesied so long ago through Ellen White! Praise God for His providence. He must have sent that man on a special trip to Philadelphia just in time. But the best is yet to come! Hartland Institute and Lift Up The Trumpet! are going to Las Vegas May 10-12 to conduct a convocation on the Three Angels' Messages and Bible prophecy for these dear people! If you are in that area we will be happy to see you! Tell your friends.

And please pray for this effort. Many who are not yet members of God's Remnant People will be at that convocation, including our new Bible students. We want to see them ALL in Heaven someday – and very soon at that. Maranatha!

If you would like to get your own literature ministry started, please call Hartland Institute. We would love to help you. It's easy, and you don't have to be an expert. You just have to love souls! I've got some great ideas! Call 540-672-3100 ext 285 and Hartland will put us together.

David G. Lee lives in the Philadelphia area and is a board member of Hartland. He is also a very active literature missionary.

LAST GENERATION

Update from New York City! September 11 Project

People who receive our September 11 flyer featuring Sister White's prophecies about the destruction of cities can request both a free Last Generation magazine entitled "The Beginning of Sorrows," and a special version of the Great Controversy. These requests are mailed to Hartland Institute and are processed by Redemption Ministries, a Hartland College student outreach that handles requests for Bible studies and literature.

John Kannenberg, Subscription Manager, & Betsy Mayer, Editor, along with Hal Mayer & Dr. Colin Standish, help Joe Deguerre load up 70,000 flyers destined for New York City

In January, we sent 70,000 of these flyers to NYC with a dedicated literature missionary, Joe Deguerre. He and his team of faithful helpers have been passing them out all over NYC. From their efforts, we receive daily requests for both the book and the magazine.

We pray that many minds have been agitated to seek God more fervently since coming into contact with these silent preachers of truth.

Last week, an amazing request came into the Redemption Ministries office. A woman responding to the flyer wrote that she was so impressed with the flyer that she told 20 friends. They ordered 20 copies of the book and the magazine for their group. She said that when they have read the book they would make a spiritual decision about what they are going to do about it. Pray for these 20 people!

Flyers sent through our ZipShare program have also generated requests. One man wrote; "thank you for the brochures on 'Was Prophecy Fulfilled on Sept. 11?... I'm writing to request some if you have any. I would like to have at least 50 or more... I will be more than glad to send the money."

We pray that many minds have been agitated to seek God more fervently since coming in contact with these silent preachers of truth. Your generous gifts toward free literature, and your bulk orders make a huge difference in people's lives. Think of the eternal consequences of an investment in Last Generation magazine. You can help. Just call us at 540-672-3100.

The Best of Both Worlds

When Hartland first approached John and Enid Irvine some years ago about volunteering to teach at Hartland College during winter term, they were very interested. And little did we realize what a blessing it would be! Not only does Hartland have a warm place in their hearts, they live in Canada and would be quite happy to spend the winter months in a warmer place. This gives them the cooler weather in the summer in Canada, and the warmer weather in the winter in Virginia.

John and Enid Irvine have been volunteering at Hartland for four years.

But even more special, their daughter, her husband, and their grandchildren live only 20 minutes or so from our campus, a double incentive to take advantage of the opportunity. John and Enid have been regular volunteers each January thru March for 4 years now.

It's not without its sacrifices though. John and Enid have to arrange for the care of their home while they are at Hartland, sometimes at the last minute. They have to live in less commodious accommodations than when at home. "But it is all worth it," they say. They really enjoy the students, and the spiritual atmosphere on campus. And they know that they are needed in the important work that Hartland is doing for the Lord.

In addition to his teaching health classes both in the college and in Hartland Wellness Center, John, who has a MS in Public Health, has been an interim director of Hartland Wellness Ceneter, and is presently serving as interim director of Hartland Publications, both of which have been challenging positions for him. Though he is "retired," he takes his responsibilities seriously, as done unto the Lord.

And with his 18+ years background in administration, he has provided stability and strength of leadership during the transition phases of these two divisions from one administrator to another.

Enid has helped with decorating, inventory management, and with other responsibilities and projects that might otherwise have gone undone. She is always gracious and gentle, and loves her grandchildren!

The Irvine's volunteer experience has been a blessing for them and for Hartland as well... although it has not been without its sacrifices.

What a blessing it is to have such dedicated "retired" volunteers to help where ever help is needed! If you are interested in volunteering either part time or full time, please contact us. We'll be glad to talk to you about it. 540-672 3100.

Medical Missionary "Spring Break"

They came from places like Atlanta & Mt. Vernon, Ohio. Academy students again chose to spend their Spring Break learning to be Medical Missionaries. "Every son & daughter of God is called to be a missionary;... the object of our education." (MH p. 395)

Each day of this one week training session was packed full with lectures and hands-on labs. Classes included: Eight Laws of Health; Nutrition; Principals of Medical Missionary Work; Public Speaking; Patient Assessment; Charcoal Therapy; Cooking School; Herb Therapy; Hydro Therapy; Nutrients in Sprouts; & Massage Therapy

It's thrilling to watch the "lights come on" as the students see modern science verifying our health message given over 100 years ago. "Let our people show that they have a living interest in medical missionary work... Please support our new Medical Missionaries through your prayers.

Fire!!

I awoke at 4.50 am, and though I was 10 minutes behind my normal schedule, I donned my exercise clothes and went outside for my usual 3 mile walk. I have several routes that I travel and was planning to take a particular one, but just at the last second before making the turn, something in me urged me to take a different route.

As I was walking and praying I approached the greenhouses on campus and noticed an orange glow and wondered if someone left a light on. As I got closer I realized that it was fire inside greenhouse #1. Though the greenhouse was thick with pipe and turned on the water, grabbed some 5 gallon buckets standing nearby and began to fill them with water. Within 25 minutes the fire was under control and I could run to find the farm manager.

“At the last second... something in me urged me to take a different route this particular morning”

Little did I know the danger I was in, for after sunup it was discovered that a high pressure valve for a backup propane heater located above the fire had been nearly melted. Had that blown, there could have been a serious explosion.

Had I been on my other routing, or had I been 10 minutes earlier or later, the outcome would have been much worse. How the fire started is not certain, though possibly because the wood was too close to the stove.

Fortunately the damage was only minor and easily repaired. The lessons are obvious. We thank God for the tokens of His watch care and protection on Hartland.

smoke, I could see that the fire was licking up the frame of the building and had melted a hole in the ceiling plastic. The fire was centered in a wood pile used to supply the wood stove in the winter to keep the greenhouses warm, especially at night. And it was hot! Flames were shooting up 8 feet.

I stayed low and fumbled to find a working hose. Failing that, I found a stand

A LESSON FROM HISTORY

“I Will Be Heard!”

William Lloyd Garrison spoke strongly against slavery for much of his life. He was the editor of The Liberator, a periodical dedicated to abolition. He was writing in the first half of the 19th century (1830s) when it was politically incorrect and very unpopular to be an abolitionist. He believed that slavery was wrong and that it should be abolished immediately. For his views he was threatened, attacked, and mistreated. Yet this reformer stood his ground. His magazine had 1,820 powerful issues, and was circulated far and wide through to the end of the civil war.

In his first salvo as editor of The Liberator, Garrison wrote the following powerful statement of his intentions. “On this subject, I do not wish to think, or or speak, or write, with moderation. No! No! Tell a man whose house is on fire, to give a moderate alarm; tell him to moderately rescue his wife from the hand of the ravisher; tell the mother to gradually extricate her babe from the fire into which it has fallen; -- but urge me not to use moderation in a cause like the present. I am in earnest – I will not equivocate – I will not excuse – I will not retreat a single inch – AND I WILL BE HEARD!...”

William Lloyd Garrison

How much more in this age, when Satan has spiritually ravished Christ's true church, when the truth has fallen into the fire, should God's servants speak with the same conviction as William Lloyd Garrison! After all, the “truth shall make you free.” John 8:32. How can we hold back and moderate our voices while Satan deceives and leads men, women and children to eternal destruction? God's faithful servants cry aloud, spare not, lift up their voices like a trumpet, “and shew my people their transgression, and the house of Jacob their sins.” Isa. 58:1 That doesn't sound like moderation does it?

On September 11, we were once again stunningly reminded of the great crisis that is before us. We have no time to lose. Will we learn from Garrison? May God help us to be faithful watchmen.

India Project

Word from India is again wonderful! As you may know, an entire container load of more than 300,000 copies of a special India issue of Last Generation magazines was shipped to India for distribution. Here are a few responses from those hungry souls who have received them. Please note the last one especially. Pray for these precious people, that they will accept and practice the truth.

Dear brother in Christ Jesus,

I happened to get a copy of "Last Generation" preparing one for the final conflict between Good and evil and I have also read the book "The Great Controversy" by E.G. White. I am basically a Roman Catholic and have been born and brought up in the faith. It is so difficult to digest that the Catholic Church is against Christ and the teachings of the Bible.

Gentlemen;

I received a copy of "Last Generation" special issue India, while being distributed near T. Nagar Railway station by one faithful. Excellent, world class layout, thought provoking articles. A deep and lucid insight into the Holy Bible. It was by chance that I came across this boy, and got this magazine. Really, divine dispensation...

"If (what you say) is true, then the Catholic Church is wrong"

In your magazine the article "Can we trust Bible Prophecy" you have explained the verses and visions of Daniel and the prediction of world history. If it is true then the Catholic Church is wrong. But then it has numerous saints like St. Antony of Padua, St. Francis Xavier and even Mother Theresa was a catholic. Are we to say that they were all wrong?

Respected and beloved servants of God,

Loving greetings in the name of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. I saw your magazine, Last Generation in the bus, left by some forgetful passenger for me! It was good and nice for my soul. These days when so much is going on regarding prophecies your magazine is very good. Please be kind enough to send me more information. I do like to have some of your magazines coming in regularly.

Further, I also have these doubts.

1. Institution of the Holy Eucharist: In Luke 22:19, Jesus says, "This is my body, which is given up for you. Do this in memory of me." This is what is done by a Catholic priest while celebrating a mass. Further, in the Great Controversy in page 163, Luther in the last paragraph says, "The Mass is a bad thing, God is opposed to it." What is the proof of this statement?

Another thing is, can I be of use to you and your ministry in the Lord. I am working for the world-marketing books, but I want sincerely to serve the Lord. I am aged 41 years. A post graduate and have working experience since 1984. I know English, Tamil, Hindi, and Malayalam. I will do anything and everything for my Lord. Please reply by priority. Thanking you.

2. Confession - John 20:23 says "If you forgive people's sin they are forgiven, if you do not forgive them, they are not forgiven." Jesus told this to the apostles and later the duties were given to the priest in the Catholic Church. So, we need to confess our sins. Can you elaborate on this point? Is it not necessary to confess the sins to the

As you will see, the last one in this series is from a very sincere man, who is in the darkness of the Roman Church. Pray that God will help him see the light.

WORLD MISSION

The Orphans of India

Sixteen percent of the world's population lives in India—over a billion people! Eighty percent of the people are Hindus and only 48% are literate. Poverty and crime are everywhere. The few wealthy people are vastly in the minority. With the aids disease killing many in the nation, it comes as no surprise that orphanages are badly needed.

A. S. Daniel, a faithful Seventh-day Adventist, accepted the challenge to establish an orphanage in Panruti, Tamil Nadu. Not all of the children are Seventh-day Adventists, but all of them are involved in outreach of his school, St. John's Orphanage and Matriculation School. Mr. Daniel is educating the students in God's eight laws of health, and the children in turn go into the surrounding villages and "teach" what they have learned. As the children sing and share their health talks, the way is opened to share the three angels' messages with the villagers. Each house in his town has been given a copy of the Last Generation magazine—5000 magazines have been distributed!

Mr. Daniel, an educator by profession, believes in giving the orphans a godly education. His motto is "Educate for Eternity." The students are currently memorizing Psalm 119!

Mr. Daniel reports that there are many more children waiting to be admitted, but there is no support for them.

priest and not to God straight?

3. Regarding Sabbath; we have different sayings in Matthew 5:17-19, Matthew 12: 7, 8, Luke 16:16-17, Mark 2:27. Can you please explain each verse?

Further, are there any other books, magazines or materials to prove that the Catholic Church is wrong? My sincere desire is to preach the Word of God. How can I prepare myself for this vocation? I have also been reading the books on Purgatory, Hell, etc. by Tan Books and Publishers Inc. Rockfort, Illinois 61105. They seem to talk of real life experiences.

Are these all wrong? I have also read the translations of the Koran.

Now, I hope you would be able to help me in FINDING THE TRUTH. Though I believe the Sabbath is on Saturday it is difficult to follow when we have to work on Saturdays. Hope to hear from you soon.

Yours devotedly in Christ.

Last Generation is a real soul winner!! Maybe you can think of ways that you can use the Last Generation magazine to win some souls where you live.

WHY I CHOSE HARTLAND!

"I was studying at the University of Hartford when the Lord mysteriously turned my life around. I realized that I had to find another school. There were a few classes I could no longer take. I knew that the angel's of God would not be able to protect me if I voluntarily placed myself on Satan's enchanted ground. Hartland offered me true Christian education, where character development and service are viewed as progress. I love that the Bible is the main textbook. Also Hartland College is not accredited by the world, nor do they accept state/federal funds. Thus they can run a program given in the Bible & Spirit of Prophecy. I appreciate Hartland's high standards."
Richard Houghton , Connecticut,

"I'm being trained to work for the Lord as a missionary. Hartland had a missions emphasis and the high Christian principles I value. I wanted true education that was offered no where else. I love the truth-filled classes and the interaction with many unique, precious people!"

NEWS FROM THE MISSION FIELDS

Hindu Girl Seeks The Lord

This past December, two Hartland students and a staff member traveled on a missionary tour to Macau, Thailand, and Malaysia. We found a tremendous challenge in presenting God's last day message of mercy to a predominantly Buddhist group. Speaking to over a thousand students, each day found us asking the Lord for wisdom and strength to lift up Jesus.

At the Niva International school in Bangkok, we conducted a week of prayer. Questions came from the students, ranging from the reason for the existence of man to what happens when we die. With Bible in hand, each class and talk pointed these young people to the hope that we have in Jesus.

One student in particular that I shall never forget was Mira. Mira was introduced to me by a teacher who told me she wanted to speak to me alone. As we sat and talked, the story unfolded of a young girl whose parents were getting a divorce, her brother had been diagnosed as mentally insane, and her academic and spiritual life were effectively being destroyed. As she looked at me, I silently prayed that the Lord would help her see the power of a living God in her life. I felt even more keenly her pain as Mira was a Hindu, where it is culturally unacceptable to speak of the problems of the family to others.

We prayed, and I told her to do two things that week, to pray that God would show her His power in her life, and to read a portion of scripture everyday. Mira came day after day to our program, and over the course of the week I noticed a marked change in her countenance. She began to smile, and her interest in our program and talks showed the beginnings of a life in Christ. These and countless other children need our prayers as Mira's story is the story of many others.

Ideas Have Consequences!

All ideas lead somewhere, to some ultimate conclusion. There are always practical consequences to ideas. Henry Ford's idea, for example, was to mass produce the automobile, and it led to a great revolution in the auto industry, and an American love affair with the car. Try to tell Americans to give up their cars now!

Or take Hitler's Arian supremacy ideas for example. In the environment of post war Germany (WWI), when Germans were ready for a strong leader who promised them economic prosperity, Hitler's strong, political ideas gave his views credibility and momentum, and they led to the cruel deaths of 6 million Jews, a horrific consequence.

“Thought capital’ is an asset that God has granted to every human being.”

Here is another one; the idea of a college dedicated to training young people to spread the truth. In this age of decadence; when even Adventist youth are turning to the world in record numbers (often encouraged by their parents or by the very schools that were to train them for the service of God), it is a revolutionary idea to start a school just for training soul winners. But that is exactly what Hartland's founders did almost 19 years ago. And what of the consequences of that idea? Now there are many young people teaching, preaching and publishing the truth around the world.

And don't forget the medical missionaries. For example, there is David Fam, a Hartland Grad, whose idea had consequences. Under great opposition, David established a Wellness Center in Malaysia, plus a medical missionary training program so that young people can learn to be soul winners too. That will have consequences in Heaven, won't it?

One of my favorite statements is about ideas and their consequences. “Every human being... is endowed with a power akin to that of the Creator – individuality, power to think and to do. The men in whom this power is developed are the men who bear responsibilities, who are leaders in enterprise, and who influence character... men strong to think and to act, men who are masters and not slaves of circumstances, men who possess breadth of mind, clearness of thought, and the courage of their convictions.” Education 17-18.

Every idea has consequences. “Thought capital” is an asset that God has granted to every human being. Capital is something you must steward if you plan to have capital gains. Thoughts react on other thoughts, and this leads to plans and ideas which always have consequences.

Stewardship of our ideas is vital because the consequences can be for good or for evil. That is why we cannot let our children just watch anything they want on TV, or waste their minds on video or computer games or cartoons. These things drain thought capital. If we are going to be men and women of spiritual stature, we cannot waste our intellectual resources on things that will not take us there. Have you taken stock of your ideas lately?

When the Lord of all comes again, those who have properly stewarded their ideas will have the ultimate consequence. They will hear those wonderful words, “Well done, good and faithful servant... enter thou into the joy of thy Lord.” Matt 25:23 Now that's stewardship at its best! Eternal thought capital, ever growing, ever gaining in the knowledge of God. New ideas with incredible, never-ending, and joy-filled consequences.

Laymen and Youth In Action

During my recent visit to New Zealand and Australia for camp meetings, I was strongly impressed with the importance of the work placed before our young people and laity. At the camp meetings I was greatly encouraged by the quality of presentations made by both. Many were younger men who presented in-depth messages which showed how much God can use those who, in their own personal study of the Word, have allowed the Holy Spirit to minister to them. It reminded me of the prophetic utterances of Sister White, which showed that men and women will be moved not so much by the learning of literary institutions, especially worldly institutions, but rather by the moving of the Holy Spirit.

Under the showers of the latter rain the inventions of man, the human machinery, will at times be swept away, the boundary of man's authority will be as broken reeds, and the Holy Spirit will speak through the living, human agent, with convincing power. No one then will watch to see if the sentences are well rounded off, if the grammar is faultless. The living water will flow in God's own channels (Selected Messages, Bk. 2, pp. 58, 59).

I could not but help contemplating that these younger men demonstrated a far greater insight into the saving truths of God than many of our trained ministers, who week by week, preach tame homilies to the needy, thirsty members of their congregations. Many of us are waiting for some charismatic leader to rise up to bring revival and reformation to God's church. Yet it is time for the laity to stop waiting and to act themselves. It may well be that a primarily lay movement will complete the gospel commission.

So often, we wring our hands when we see the impotency of the ministry, or perhaps even worse, the abject failure of the ministry to preach truth. It is often ministers who lead their church members to eternal destruction. But now is the time for the laity to rise up and say, "Lord, you have called us." It was laymen that God called in times past—men like Samuel, Isaiah and Jeremiah, John The Baptist, and even the Apostles to carry the burden of presenting the messages of reform to God's people. Should we expect anything different at the end of earth's history? I think not. We cannot hide behind the failures of others. God is calling every one who names the name of Christ, every one who has been called to the three angels' messages to rise up and take his or her place in the final climactic message that will be given throughout the world.

"This Church began largely under the fire of youth, and its mission will be completed largely by young people who have surrendered their all to Christ."

Let us encourage our young people especially. Some are inclined to discount them. They are the hope of finishing God's work. This church began largely under the fire of youth, and its mission will be completed largely by young people who have surrendered their all to Christ. Not only are we ourselves to move forward, but we are to encourage the youth to take up the blood-stained banner of Prince Emmanuel at a time when so many in our churches are defecting to the apostate banner of Satan. The deeper the apostasy becomes in our church the stronger should be our commitment to Jesus Christ and to the mission that He has placed before us. If laymen fail in this work, we will almost certainly fall short of God's kingdom. This is the time for every sincere member of God's church to say, "Here am I, send me."

Yours in the blessed hope,
